

MERRITT

One Premier Woodworking Company
Raises The Standard Of Luxury Living
By Creating Signature Works Of Art
Personalized For A Sophisticated Clientele

TEXT Kim Mosley

ABOVE AND TOP: President & CEO of Merritt, G. Michael Merritt and his brother Keith Merritt, Executive Vice President, are dedicated to being the best, most forward thinking and in-demand provider of ultra-high-end architectural millwork and joinery for residential estates and superyachts.

The estates and superyachts of the mega rich are designed by famous architects, constructed by well-known builders and decorated by celebrated interior designers. But who are the artisans, engineers and installers that bring these visions to life? Just a few steps off center stage is one such company: Cleveland-based Merritt, a $50+ million interior strategy firm. And since its founding by George A. Merritt in 1967 as an ultra-high-end woodworking company, Merritt has expanded traditional boundaries for this particular niche to now encompass a

ABOVE: Merritt's team continues to research the world's finest materials and technological advancements, fusing them together with the industry's most advanced equipment and creative people to produce exquisite monumental architectural millwork with all the features and functions necessary to enjoy a luxury lifestyle.

breadth of services and products. A passion for creating masterfully designed custom woodworking that combines exquisite artistry and matchless sophistication is what puts brothers G. Michael Merritt and Keith Merritt in a league of their own. With a team comprised of millworkers, master carvers, carpenters and installers as well as architects, engineers and project managers, Merritt has now become one of the premier leaders in the luxury design/build/real estate industry. For additional information, visit merrittwoodwork.com. ♦